BENJAMIN LEROY ELECTED TO HEAD SOUTHERN GROUP

University Student Is Chosen President of College Federation
ELECTION IS CLOSING FEATURE OF SESSION
Kentucky Is Selected as Place for Meeting Next Year

Benjamin C. LeRoy, junior in the College of Engineering, was elected president of the Southern Federation of College Students Saturday night at the closing session of the three-day meeting held at the University of Alabama. Twenty-five delegates, representing the 14 states in the group, attended the meet.

Other officers elected were Charles Withington, University of Florida, vice president; and Charles Wagner, Georgia Tech, secretary.

The University of Kentucky was named as the meeting place for the 11th annual convention, to be held during the last week of April next year. LeRoy will have charge of arrangements for the convention.

LeRoy has been active in student affairs since coming to the university from Paducah, where he was graduated from Tilghman high school in 1928. He is secretary of the Men's Student Council, vice-president of SuKy, and a member of O. K. K. Lamp and Cross, and Triangle fraternities.

The program of the convention opened with a discussion of college publications, their influence, usefulness, and general worth to the student body.

The honor system as tried in various colleges and universities was next discussed, followed by addresses on the general organizations of student government.

The subjects of intramural sports and Pan-Hellenic councils served for the final formal addresses, and were succeeded by an open forum discussion of engineering phases of college life and of factors affecting the undergraduate.

The visiting delegates, Mr. LeRoy reports, were entertained by the Alabamians with smokers, dances, and two baseball games between Alabama and Ole Miss. A day exercises, (Alabama-day) corresponding to Kentucky's May day including field events, carnival, a bathing beauty contest, and incidental amusements completed the daytime pastimes.

A banquet at which officers were elected and a subsequent dance Saturday night ended the convention.

ENGINEERS HEAR WILLIS CARRIER

Speaker Outlines to Students Various Facts Concerning Air Conditioning and Needs of Process

Willis H. Carrier, of Newark, N. J., internationally known scientist and president of the Carrier Engineering corporation, spoke at a special assembly of engineering students held at 10 o'clock Friday morning in Memorial hall. Mr. Carrier's subject was "The Relationship of Research and Engineering."

The speaker outlined to the students various facts concerning air conditioning and how industrial developments have fitted these processes to specific needs.

Mr. Carrier's field of endeavor has attracted more attention than almost any engineering approach in recent years. He has carried on industrial processes that previously could only be prosecuted under weather conditions were suitable.

The scientific work of Mr. Carrier has been carried to all parts of the world. He has developed a centrifugal refrigerating machine using an entirely new refrigerant of his own discovery that undoubtedly will be universally accepted in the refrigerating world. He is the present head of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, and was formerly president of the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers.

Mr. Carrier has associated with him more graduates of the university than from any other school in the United States.

Business Managers To Meet at University

Through the office of Dr. H. Peak, business manager of the university, maps and road routings are being mailed to the 75 delegates who will come to the university in May to attend a convention of college business managers. The literature is being supplied through the courtesy of the Lexington Automobile club. Arrangements are being made to enable the delegates and their wives to witness the running of the Kentucky Derby, and plans are under way to facilitate their enjoyment of the region's scenic beauty.

"The three R's are to be replaced by three S's during the next four years," Chancellor Charles W. Flint told the freshman class of the Syracuse University. The three S's are studies, sports and social life.

First Call!

First Call for Spring basketball! Coach Adolph Rupp wishes to announce 15 evenings of basketball practice beginning at 4 o'clock today.

Coach Rupp desires about 10 good men to replace those men he is losing by graduation. Due to the fact that the football-basketball players will be unable to report for duty until very late next fall there will be unequaled opportunity for the new men to show up well.

"During the spring session all of next year's plays will be introduced and the fundamentals will be worked out. All who desire to make the squad for next year will benefit from the spring session," said Coach Rupp.

W.A.C. WILL HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET

Event Is One Occasion of Year When All Women Students of University Meet for Social Function

The annual women's banquet for all women of the university will be given at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the Phoenix hotel under the auspices of the Woman's Administrative council. This is the one occasion on the year's calendar when all the women of the university come together for a social function.

Georgetta Walker, president of the council, will preside as toastmistress. Toasts will be given by Nell Montgomery for the freshman class, Ruth Wehle for the sophomore class, Eleanor Smith for the junior class, and Mary Virginia Halley for the senior class. The theme to be carried out by these toasts is "College Bread."

The women's student government award of one hundred dollars to the outstanding junior woman will be made at this time. The Alpha Gamma Delta cup, given annually to the freshman girl who is considered the most outstanding girl in her class considering scholarship, leadership, and activity, will also be presented. Mortar Board, senior women's honorary fraternity, is instituting a new custom this year in offering a prize to the freshman girls who have kept their room the neatest and most attractive in Patterson hall, and this award will be made during the banquet.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity, will hold pledging exercises as one feature of the program, according to its annual custom. The new officers of Y. W. C. A., who will be chosen by popular vote of all women students today, will be announced; and the new officers of women's student government, also recently elected, will be introduced.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Dean Sarah Blanding, Dean Sarah B. Holmes, Miss Margaret Lewis, and Miss Laura Gill Hoffman will be special guests of the Women's Administrative council. All women students are urged to attend, as are women faculty members and wives of professors who are interested. Plates will be one dollar, and reservations may be made any time during the day with Georgetta Walker at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Six Men Are Pledged To Sigma Delta Chi

Professional Journalism Fraternity Plans for Next Kampus Kat

Six men were pledged by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, at the regular meeting of the organization at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the office of the journalism department. The men who were pledged are: Keith Hemphill, Lawrence Herron, William Luther, Edgar Turley, John Watts, and Gilbert Kingsbury. Initiation will be held in the latter part of May.

These men were chosen for their high standing and journalistic ability. All the new pledges are second semester sophomores in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Plans for the annual Sigma Delta Chi Founder's Day banquet were discussed at the meeting. Arrangements were also made for the publication of The Kampus Kat on May Day.

QUARTET HOLDS REUNION

The university quartet of 1923-24, in its first reunion since 1925, presented a program of vocal numbers in the state reception room of the capitol Friday morning. Gov. Flem D. Sampson and members of the chief executive staff composed the audience. The personnel of the quartet includes E. M. Heavrin, former secretary to the governor, Elbert DeCoursey, Marie W. Baughman, and Robert B. Clem.

Orchestral Group Gives Program at Sunday Vespers

Philharmonic Musicians Appear for Last Time of Semester

The University Philharmonic orchestra under the direction of Prof. Carl Lampert presented the Vespers program Sunday with Mrs. Frances Arnold South as the guest artist.

The orchestra opened with Von Weber's Overture to "Der Freischutz." It begins with a broad low union melody, then shows the fear of the mysterious and unknown. It ends after several beautiful passages with a melodious climax.

Mrs. South, with Professor South at the piano and accompanied by the flutes and violins, sang the beautiful soprano aria—"Pace, Pace Mio Dio" from La Forza del Destino. Verdi. This was Mrs. South's last appearance before Lexington audiences for sometime.

Haydn's "Surprise Symphony" was given an artistic interpretation by the orchestra. This is known by the name "Surprise" because Haydn had put to sleep the Court before which it was first presented by the soothing Andante. Haydn had anticipated this and ended the piece with a full orchestra fortissimo which awoke the Court.

The last two numbers given were the Nocturne from Mendelssohn's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and favorite selections from "Faust."

Between the last numbers Professor Lampert presented to the audience the members of the orchestra whose work and artistry entitled them to certificates of Recognition of Service. These persons were: Dudley E. South, Bruce Farquhar, Louis Friedman, Imogene Young, Marcia Lampert, and Earl Michael.

Delegates Return From National Press Convention

Virginia Dougherty, editrix, and Coleman Smith, business manager, The Kernel, and William Ardery, president of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association returned from Cincinnati Saturday evening after attending the two-day convention of the National College Press Association.

At the convention plans were formulated for the permanent organization of the association, the inception of a college news service, and other matters concerning college newspapers, magazines and annuals were discussed. Invitations were issued to various delegates who were present to attend the convention of the organization which will be held at the University of Kentucky in November.

As the first step in the program of national organization the various smaller press associations will be asked to appoint a permanent director who can carry on the business of the organization at times when other officers are not available and who will serve on the board of directors for the national.

University Faculty Member Will Study Criminal Problems

Mr. Roy H. Owsley, staff member of the Bureau of Municipal Research of the University, left the city to go to Louisville, where he will engage in a research study of the cost of criminal justice for that city. The survey is being made under the auspices of the National Commission of Law Observation and Enforcement, headed by former United States Attorney General George W.ickersham, which, among its various investigations, has undertaken a nation wide study of the cost of criminal justice for cities of the United States over 25,000 in population.

Mr. Owsley has had considerable experience in municipal research, having been associated with the University Bureau of Municipal Research since its establishment. He is also an instructor in the department of political science of the university, and is managing editor of the Kentucky City official publication of the Kentucky Municipal league.

Mr. Owsley hopes to complete the survey for the city of Louisville this week, as the reports of the many investigators must reach the office of the national director by May 1. The joint report of the nation wide survey is to be published sometime this summer.

Woman Scientist To Visit University

Dr. Winifred E. Brencley, famous woman scientist and author on the staff of the Rothamsted Experiment Station in England, will visit the agricultural experiment station of the university some time in May. She sailed for the United States April 11. Doctor Brencley will come here in furtherance of her interest in the relation to plant growth of copper, manganese, and other minerals found in small quantities in Kentucky soil.

Yale has a new wrinkle in crew this year when Eli will have oars made of cedar wood procured in Alaska above the Arctic circle.

Guignol Player

Miss Virginia McVey, who appeared in the last Guignol presentation, "Macbeth," will enact the part of Laura Cram in "Holiday" next play to be given by the Guignol. "Holiday" will open at the little theatre May 5.

Political Science Group Will Hold Initiation Banquet

Delta Chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha Will Admit 14 Saturday, April 25

Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, will hold its initiation banquet at 6:15 p. m. Saturday at the Phoenix hotel. Rawlings Ragland, president, will preside at the banquet.

The persons pledged are: John W. Manning, political science instructor; Ellen Scott, Shepherd Jones, Martin E. Glenn, James B. Holtzclaw, graduate assistants; Mildred B. Guthrie, Robert B. Stewart, Whitlins, Hugh R. Jackson, Ballard Hunter, William R. Pearce, Margaret O'Connell, Anita Wells, Minnie Clay Baker. They were pledged on April 15.

The aims of Pi Sigma Alpha are to foster interest in government, and to create active interest in political and public affairs. Requirements for membership are that a student have a standing of 2 in the university and be a major in political science.

Delta chapter was founded several years ago by Dr. J. Catron Jones, head of the political science department. Other members in the fraternity are Dr. Amry Vandenberg, Dean Sarah G. Blanding, Dr. Esther Cole, Dr. Paul K. Walp, Roy Owsley, Gayle Mohney and Doctor Tuthill.

Water Color Exhibit Continues to May 3

Display Contains 34 Works by Recognized American Artists

The water color exhibit now showing at the Art Center will continue until May 3. The display presenting 34 works by recognized leaders in the American field and sponsored by the American Federation of Arts of Washington is open to the public, from 8 until 5 o'clock, every week day.

According to Prof. E. W. Rannels, head of the art department, the artists represented typify very well the strong group of conservative water color painters in America. Subjects of the display show a wide range of expression, creating an interest for all visitors.

Students in general as well as those studying art are urged to take advantage of this opportunity of gaining an acquaintance with contemporary water color work.

University Wins Last Debate of Semester

Representing the university in the last debate of the Pentangular league Sydney T. Scheil and John M. Kane won by a unanimous decision over a team from Vanderbilt University at 8 o'clock Saturday night, in room 111, McVey hall. Kentucky had the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved That the Several States Should Enact Laws Providing for Compulsory Unemployment Insurance and the Employer Shall Contribute."

The Vanderbilt team was represented by Howard and George Franklin. The judges in the contest were Prof. D. C. Troxel, College of Buies; Prof. E. McMillen, Kentucky Wesleyan; and Prof. H. M. Groves, of Transylvania.

Reporters to Meet

Kernel reporters will meet in the news room at 11:50 a. m. today. Anyone wishing to become a reporter may meet with the regular staff. Suggestions for news gathering will be given. This meeting is part of the reorganization plan.

LAWRENCE HERRON, News Editor.

Annual R. O. T. C. Unit Inspection Will Close Today

Regimental Parade Monday Afternoon Features Opening Day

Annual inspection of the university unit of the senior division of the Reserve Officers Training Corps, continuing from yesterday, will close today with the inspecting officers completing their rounds of the various military classes. Today's activity climaxes this year's official review of the department.

Regimental parade was held yesterday despite rainy weather. As a feature of the parade, the university unit of Pershing Rifles, military fraternity, gave its crack drill exercises. Last night, Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military organization, held a dinner-dance at the Phoenix hotel in honor of the inspecting officers.

Today, Lt. Col. E. N. Bowman and Maj. C. A. Bagby of the fifth corps area will continue their inspection of class room work to determine the efficiency of the unit in every respect. Every company is not being inspected but it is likely that those which are will receive a thorough questioning. From data gained during the inspection the officers will fix the unit's general rating for the coming year.

Inspection is not competitive and the highest rating given is not being restricted to any definite number of units. The order of rating the units is excellent, satisfactory, and unsatisfactory. Last year the cadets received a rating of satisfactory.

Since the failure of the regiment last year to gain an excellent rating, its members have not been permitted to wear blue stars on their sleeves, signifying their efficiency. In order to regain this distinction the cadets have been working rigorously. Those taking part in the last two parades have not been excused from their next class as is customary, but have reported at the drill field for further instruction.

The decision of the inspectors as to the general rating of the university unit will be given after the inspection of the entire corps area, including several states. With the completion of corps reviews the corps area commander will inform the university authorities as to the general rating of this unit.

An outline of the unit training inspection follows:

- Inspection of theoretical instruction including first, observation of the conduct of unit instructors with a view to reporting on the efficiency of the instructional methods; second, examination of at least one section of each class for a period of approximately 45 minutes covering theoretical subjects of the program of instruction.
- Inspection of the practical instruction, covering: drill and command, practical exercises in combat principles and tactics of the army, technique of weapons and equipment, and inspection of arms, uniforms, and equipment.

Dr. Eugene LaForest Swan, Washington, D. C., will speak on "Social Hygiene" at 8 o'clock Monday night, April 27, in Memorial hall. On the following morning he will address students of the university at convocation on the same subject.

Dr. E. L. Swan to Give Address at University

Dr. Eugene LaForest Swan, Washington, D. C., will speak on "Social Hygiene" at 8 o'clock Monday night, April 27, in Memorial hall. On the following morning he will address students of the university at convocation on the same subject.

Dr. Swan has been identified with the American Social Hygiene Association as a lecturer for 13 years, and has done intensive research work in his field.

The purpose of the organization is to bring to the attention of the public the necessity of recognizing the sex factor in normal life, and of bringing about greater harmony and happiness in the home through a better understanding of an abstruse subject.

CHAMBERS ATTENDS

Dr. J. S. Chambers, of the university Dispensary, left Saturday for Durham, N. C., where he will represent the university at the dedication of the new medical building at Duke University. He will return Wednesday.

Five Fast, Fiery Freshmen Flash Faithful Fleeting Feet for Fame

By RALPH E. JOHNSON

There is a saying that a red-head may be crazy, but you will never find a red-head in the poor house. If the writer of that phrase had seen that red-head of the Kentucky freshman track squad he might have been inclined to mention the speed of the five who form the nucleus of this year's squad.

They come from three states and are quite capable of handling seven events. The red of their hair runs from brilliant to dull and most of them are as freckled as a bird's egg, but that has nothing to do with their ability to run.

Red hair is a freak of nature that is usually associated with fiery temper and sex appeal. From the time of Caesar and Cleopatra red heads have been famous. It is doubtful whether either of those famous or infamous people had red hair, but Caesar had the temper and Cleo had the S. A. Anyway George Washington had red hair and we all know him as "the father of his country" and author of some famous rules of etiquette (immortalized by the Sullivan foundation).

May Queen Election

The election of May Queen will be held Thursday, April 23. Students in all colleges but the College of Engineering will vote at the ballot box to be placed in front of the Administration building, with the engineer's box in Mechanical hall. Agriculture students will vote at the Administration building box unless a box for them is placed in the Agriculture building, it was announced yesterday by Vernon Chandler, president of SuKy. Special ballots will be used and voters will be required to have their student ticket books. The results of the election will be announced in Friday's edition of The Kernel.

DR. ARTHUR HAAS TO GIVE LECTURES

Austrian Scientist Will Be Guest of Department of Physics at University While in Kentucky

Dr. Arthur Haas, professor of physics at the University of Vienna, Austria, will deliver a series of three public lectures in the physics lecture room at the university, beginning Thursday, April 23, at 4 o'clock. Doctor Haas' appearance is sponsored jointly by the physics department and Sigma Pi Sigma, honorary fraternity.

"The Relation between Wave Mechanics and the Theory of Relativity," will be the subject of Doctor Haas' first lecture. This address is intended primarily for advanced students, being somewhat technical in nature.

Thursday night at 7:30 Doctor Haas will lecture on "The Atom and the Universe," a popular subject non-mathematical in nature and intended for the general public.

Doctor Haas will give his third and last lecture Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, his subject being "Light Corpuscles, Material Waves, and the Laws of Physics," a lecture also adapted for the general public.

Professor Haas will be the guest of honor at a dinner given by Sigma Pi Sigma fraternity in the Colonial room at the Lafayette hotel Saturday, April 25, at 6:15 p. m.

Professor Haas has been in the United States before having lectured in the chief educational centers of the country in 1927. He is one of the outstanding internationally-known physicists dealing with the newer developments in the realm of physics.

In 1928 the Gibbs Committee of Yale university appointed Doctor Haas co-editor, with prominent American, English, and Dutch scientists, of the Commentary on the Works of J. William Gibbs, the great American physicist.

Five Fast, Fiery Freshmen Flash Faithful Fleeting Feet for Fame

Sutton to Speak at April Convocation
Georgia Educator to Address Second Hour Assembly Tomorrow

April convocation will be held the second hour Wednesday, April 22. The principal speaker will be Dr. W. A. Sutton, superintendent of the Atlanta schools and president of the National Educational Association. Doctor Sutton is known as one of the foremost educators in the South and his address is one of the features of the year's convocation program. His subject will be announced at the convocation.

Dr. A. W. Fortune, pastor of the Central Christian church, will pronounce the invocation and benediction. President McVey will preside.

The following cadets will act as ushers, according to the list received from the military department: E. D. Hodges, W. R. Humber, Lynn Jeffries, I. B. Irvine, and Kasper D. Little.

KENTUCKY NINE WILL ENCOUNTER MIAMI THURSDAY

Game With Ohio Team Was First on 'Cat Schedule, But Was Postponed
McBRAYER TO START ON MOUND FOR BIG BLUE
St. Xavier Is Defeated by Wildcats in Saturday Contest

The Kentucky Wildcats will play Miami University baseball team at Oxford, Ohio, Thursday, April 23. Weather conditions prevented them from playing their scheduled game here in Lexington, and the game, after being postponed several times, was finally dropped.

McBrayer will probably start on the mound for the university, and the rest of the lineup will go unchanged. Augustus is back in shape again after being partially incapacitated when he sprained his ankle in a practice game. With Augustus back in condition Barnes will probably get some relief from his position behind the bat.

The fielding of the 'Cats has gradually improved since their initial tilts with Wisconsin. Two minor changes in the hot corner have remedied the infield situation. Bunting is still below par, but the cleverness of Pat Devereux in manipulating his base runners enables the team to score a run for a hit in most cases.

The Miami nine, co-holders with Cincinnati of the Buckeye championship for the last two years, appears to be up to standard in every department except pitching. He has, however, a hard-hitting squad of veterans in other positions.

Don Bollechino, Dayton, O., a senior veteran, will play first base; Jeff DeHaven, Dayton, O., will play second; DeHaven was a leading Buckeye batter last year. Clarence Wheeler, Miamisburg, O., a junior and a regular, will hold down the hot corner; Archie Martin, Dillonvale, a junior and an outfielder last year will play short; Dick Barrett, of the famous Springfield, O., twins, will catch. Dick made his letter last year. Wm. Gorie, Lakewood, Ray Mondron, Mt. Vernon, and Harry Yanne, Cincinnati, will occupy the outfield. Lee Height, Cleveland, senior and veteran infielder. Leo Kelley, Shadyside or Marshall Weber, Wausau, will pitch.

Miami defeated the baseball team from Michigan, 5-3, the day before they played at Lexington. The scores might give some idea as to the comparative strength of the two teams.

Ragged infielding for Xavier University was responsible for the 8-4 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Kentucky Wildcats' baseball nine last Saturday at Corcoran field in Cincinnati. The Musketeers at one time lead the 'Cats 4-3, but shaky infielding allowed Kentucky to score freely late in the game.

A succession of base hits gave Kentucky three runs in the first inning. Brill, Xavier pitcher regained his composure after an initial scoring and held the Kentucky nine scoreless for the next four innings. In the sixth the poor

E. H. SHINN SPEAKS TO AG. STUDENTS

Alpha Zeta, Block and Bridle Pledge 18 Men at Meeting of Organization Monday Night

Annual election of officers, pledging exercises by Alpha Zeta and Block and Bridle, and an address by Dr. E. H. Shinn of the United States Department of Agriculture, featured the program of the Agricultural club meeting at 7:30 o'clock last night in the Agricultural building.

Selections of officers for the coming year are president, Fred Hafer; vice-president, Malcolm Lyon; and secretary-treasurer, Robert Davenport.

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, pledged Buford Cobb, Edward Baute, Malcolm Lyon, John Ewing, and Robert Reed. The requirements for membership in Alpha Zeta are scholarship in the upper two-fifths of the class and completion of at least three semesters' work. Initiation will be held Friday at the Phoenix hotel.

Block and Bridle, an organization of animal industry majors in the Agriculture College, pledged W. R. Hoover, Robert Rudolph, William Kenney, Thomas Quisenberry, J. L. Lecky, Henry Alms, Frank Ball, Kelly Cromwell, Fred Hafer, Ralph O'Neil, Paul A. Carraco, H. E. Rothwell and W. Howard.

Doctor Shinn's address was on "The Social Status of Rural People." According to the speaker, country people of today are progressing fully as much as their city relations. Improved transportation facilities, modern farming methods, and educational advantages are making the "country rube" a thing of the past. Although rural people have gained both socially and materially, they are losing much of the homely virtues which made the family farm such a satisfying life, according to Doctor Shinn.

COLLEGIATE MARRIAGE

The warm melting beauty of spring invades our hearts and brings love to serious thoughts of marriage. Every year April and May with their wiles beguile us into dreams of the future, with the result that many marriages take place even before the traditional time for brides, June.

A current magazine discusses the problem of student or collegiate marriage. There is to some of the older generation a touch of reassurance in the very fact that the youth of today still regards marriage as the great institution. Still others refuse to be encouraged by this disregard of such wild schemes as companionate marriage and free love by the collegians, and insist that marriage for college students is a bad thing.

There are, of course, certain pertinent points, such as money, children, marriage for those who are immature in judgment; still in the examples nearest us, there seem to be in every case sensible solutions for individual problems. Statistics in the magazine article mentioned say that the grades of the married students, even the younger ones, are much higher than those of the unmarried collegians. They say that there is an equality, a basis of common sense in contact with the opposite sex found in the co-educational university which forms a perfect background for marriage. They declare, these frank statistics, that the divorce courts are not thronged with collegiate marriages which have "gone on the rocks." In fact, the writer of the article emphatically states that if marriages were made in college that the divorce courts would not be busy at all.

There are many exceptions, no doubt, but too much is being made of these exceptions. Too little attention is being paid to the lasting, sincere, sensible unions founded on the campus and in the classrooms. There is no doubt that marriage puts a serious tone on life; that it makes girls and boys into men and women, and clears away the frivolities of freshman and sophomore days which need to be discarded.

Now that the day has come that marriages are recognized as made in college as well as in heaven, perhaps the young married folk may be observed in deeper, more permanent living together than ever before.

PRESS CONVENTION

Three members of The Kernel staff Friday and Saturday attended the National College Press Association convention which was held in Cincinnati. In their contacts with other collegiate newspaper men the delegates from Kentucky feel that they have found solutions to many of the problems which have confronted them and that they have heard intelligent discussion of many others. If college journalism is to continue to progress gatherings of students interested in it must play a large part in this advancement. It is only through meetings of this sort that ideas can be exchanged and that problems can be worked out.

In November the University of Kentucky will be host to delegates from other colleges throughout the United States for a convention of the N. C. P. A., and it is believed that by that time a permanent organization will have been worked out. It cannot be doubted that the meeting here will be beneficial, both to those who are interested in journalism at the university and to the representatives from the other colleges who will attend. Directors of the organization believe that definite arrangements for the establishment of a college news service will be completed at the fall meeting and that other matters pertinent to undergraduate journalism can be given enlightening consideration.

ABOUT HOPTOADS AND WOMEN

Admitting that higher education as it is practiced in this country has come in for some hard knocks during the last winter, an article written by "The Drifter" in the current issue of The Nation, says that "youngsters still learn a great deal in colleges."

"And," the article reads, "if what they learn enters their consciousness during an all-night session in a dormitory bedroom instead of in the class hour father pays for, at least it is likely to be remembered longer and used often."

"The Drifter" points out that he learned a great deal about two subjects not listed in the catalogue on a spring afternoon when he went for a walk with a girl instead of attending a duly scheduled physiology lab.

"During the stroll," the article says, "an impassioned discussion of careers for women broke loose. And in the midst of that discussion there was discovered a hoptoad that had got marooned in a black lake of tar which the sun had treacherously melted."

"For hours the Drifter labored heroically with a jackknife digging out first one leg and then another, only to find that some other toe had inadvertently slipped back. The battle grew fiercer and the talk about women grew more impassioned as the afternoon waned and the tar hardened."

"But Eliza Hoptoad was finally extricated, presumably intact... and the woman question was clarified if not settled. The moral of the tale is that the Drifter that day learned so much about the texture of a toad's hide, the stretch of a toad's legs, and the quality of a toad's patience that he has ever since felt a knowing intimacy with hoptoads. Likewise, he learned so much about women that he has been a staunch feminist ever since."

And then, near the end of the article the writer declares that "it is not true that college students are frivolous-minded. They are in fact the most serious-minded creatures alive. If they concern themselves with first love and the latest rules of an autocratic dean, who is to say that these are less worthy than the price of stocks, the precise date of an early Egyptian tax list, or the founding of a political party?"

"To appease the serious-minded investigator, remove the label Higher Education from the college gate. Put up instead a line from the early Masfield: 'The days that make us happy make us wise,'" he concludes.

All of which is a roundabout way of saying that studies are not the only thing in college, and excellent grades, while they count, are not always indicative of how much one gets out of his college days.

So if you feel like simply dropping everything and taking a stroll out into the country on one of the lazy spring afternoons, go ahead. You may not learn about women or hoptoads, but if you enjoy yourself you can just bet you aren't missing a whole lot by not sitting in a stuffy classroom trying to keep your eyes open while a professor drones on and on about the Revolutionary War, its causes and results.—Ohio State Lantern.

A SUGGESTION

Faculty meetings are being held to teach the teachers how to teach. It is rumored that at these gatherings certain outstandingly appealing lecturers speak in their most pleasing manner so that the others may listen and profit from their endeavor. All in all they are carrying out a program for the betterment of instruction methods. The theory is excellent, but in our viewpoint it would be more profitably employed if the students would receive training prior to being subjected to improved methods.

If demonstrations of ideal situations are to be presented the student body should be exposed to them before the faculty wastes too much time developing arts which the students are not capable of appreciating. In art, appreciation of the merits of artistic things must be cultivated before a person is allowed to attempt the most insignificant creation of his own. This is the ideal plan of instruction as it develops appreciation and consciousness of the value to be obtained from future work and instills the true desire to work.

The art student is trained how to use the tools which he is to work with before he is subjected to their influence, he is taught how to employ the subject matter which is to be presented to him, he learns by learning the value of things. The college pupil should be trained in the same manner, but usually he is not.

Therefore, if the faculty is training itself by listening to model instructors the students should be able to spend part of their time learning how to become model assimilators. The rudiments of assimilation should be presented to them in the same manner as the rudiments of better teaching are being presented to faculty members. This would lighten the load of the faculty and brighten the load of the student.

ELECTIONS AGAIN

Posters soliciting votes for May Queen; earnest groups of sorority and fraternity politicians gathering in solemn conclave; alliances formed and split; candidates on parade; all the fanfare and ballyhoo of the annual election for May Queen burst forth this week, not to die down until the last vote is counted and the flamboyant headlines of the next Kernel announce the triumphant co-ed.

In spite of the complexity and doubtful influence of campus politics and their corruptions, there is always hope that this year the election will be conducted on a fair basis. And this hope is rising to conviction with the appointing of efficient election officials.

However, the candidates for election seem to be unusually worthy this year, and The Kernel feels confident that the co-ed who is chosen will reign over the festivities of May Day with fitting graciousness and charm as well as beauty. All hail to Her Majesty, whoever she may be!

THANKS FOR THE COMPLIMENT

Editors may come and editors may go, but The Kernel goes on forever. Sometimes it is exceptionally excellent, while at other times it is not so good. Whenever it is nearly perfect we are all satisfied and at peace with the world, and when it is rather poor we all feel the utter futility of trying to do things.

Within the last two years The Kernel has made considerable strides toward perfection. The advertisements have increased and the student body as a whole has taken more and more interest in what appears in The Kernel. This year it was changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly and that is all toward the goal of making it a daily.

We, who work on The Kernel and for The Kernel, know what it is to love something almost to exclusion of all else. We cut classes indiscriminately, all so that The Kernel may be as nearly perfect as possible and so that we may not disappoint the student body in having the paper out on time. Professors who rant and rave about tardiness of journalists could not possibly know what The Kernel means to us.

As the legend goes, advertisements are half of the battle when it comes to the financing of a newspaper. A great many people have the mistaken idea that nothing of importance in a remunerative way could possibly come from advertising in a college newspaper. Perhaps from their viewpoint they are correct.

But we take great pride in announcing that the popular and successful Henderson Drug store advertises only in The Kernel. This particular firm entered business not so very long ago and immediately put an ad in The Kernel, and the returns have been so positive that it has decided to advertise in the future only in The Kernel.

LETTERS FOR THE RIFLE TEAM

Letters are given annually to the most outstanding participants in athletic events. They are cherished, revered, and coveted by all of the men on the campus. When college days are over they still have a meaning to those who have been fortunate enough to receive them. Old grads are continually boasting of how they earned their letters, they are treasured, put carefully away and only taken out on state occasions for friends and children to admire. A letter is one of the most appreciated rewards that a man can receive.

This year letters have been requested for the rifle team. The men on this team worked hard, spent a great deal of time developing their skill, labored under the stress of unfavorable working conditions. These men deserve some award. It has been suggested more than a month ago that they receive letters for their work. The suggestion has been apparently neglected.

The rifle team deserves recognition for its work and it is only just that the members of it should receive letters. The end of the school year is approaching and this matter should be decisively settled before it is too late. We know that the school appreciates their work and we feel that it is doing an injustice both to the student body and to the team to allow this matter to be overlooked any longer.

IS IT SO BAD AFTER ALL?

Time was when almost every speaker we heard at various gatherings of different campus organizations spoke in flowing terms about the rosy future for college graduates.

But how times have changed. Within the last week we have heard three different talks on the possibilities of the college student's landing a job when he receives his diploma in June. One predicted that half of us will be standing in the bread line next winter, another said the only way to get a job is to start working with an organization for nothing and prove that you are worth a salary, and the third observed sarcastically that the only possible way to get a position was to buy half of a business and give yourself a job.

So they go from one extreme to another. A couple of years ago speakers were prone to paint a too elaborate picture of the college graduate's chances. Now they seem to be afraid they will give us some encouragement.

Perhaps we're optimistic but we still object to swallowing all the discouraging statements without first investigating. And we still think that the average graduate, if he has initiative and ability, will be a long way from the bread line next winter.—Ohio State Lantern.

Excerpt from a news story telling about the crash of two automobiles, one of them an Austin: "and they towed it away just like a real car."

When talking to the average woman, the only way to get in a word edgewise is to start first.

Two women talking over the telephone at the same time reminds us of nothing so much as an endurance contest—the kind that ends in exhaustion for both parties.

Harvard will permit no "Yale." In the construction of two dormitories at Harvard, the Yale trademark on locks is not to be used. Harvard officials deny this has anything to do with Yale University, however.

Kenneth Kidd, Ohio State student who recently worked as bell-boy on the Leviathan, said that his greatest thrill came when he was showing a Scotchman around and the Scotchman tipped him a farthing (one-fourth cent).

Jose R. Capablanca, seven times national chess champion, enjoyed baseball much more than chess while he was a student in Columbia University. He was regular short-stop on the varsity.

Not that we enjoy mentioning it, but there are only six weeks of school left.

Admiral Byrd prepares a flag to drop on the South Pole.

Rear Admiral Byrd, Arctic and Antarctic explorer of international fame, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at the Henry Clay high school auditorium. Byrd's lecture will be accompanied and illustrated by motion pictures, selected and assembled under his own personal direction.

The Byrd expedition has to its credit the exploration and observation of a total area which, if superimposed on a map of the eastern half of the United States, would extend in a wide belt from Chesapeake Bay westward and around the head of Lake Michigan, northward to beyond Duluth and embracing the greater part of the states of Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, and about half each of Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. Of the area described, it is estimated that 150,000 square miles were surveyed by aerial camera, or territory equivalent to nearly the whole of West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. The total distance flown was about 7,100 miles, more than 2,100 miles being covered by sleds.

Fencing Tourney Will Be Held Friday, May 8

The second of the semi-annual fencing tournaments will be held May 8, at 8 o'clock in the men's gymnasium under the direction of M. Applebaum, instructor, and C. W. Hackensmith, intramural director. At the same time there will be instituted a semi-annual tournament for girls.

Fifty students of fencing will participate in this event, which will be run on a straight elimination basis. The honor system will be employed in scoring touches.

Using the last tournament as a basis for judging the turnout, Mr. Applebaum expects a much larger turnout. Fencing is rapidly gaining popularity at the university, and those who are present for the exhibition may expect an excellent display of fencing. Cups and medals will be awarded to the winners of the boys' and girls' groups. The intramural department will donate the trophies for the men, and the Women's Athletic department will present medals for the girls.

Headline Appearing in Friday's Kernel Fires S. A. "Daddy" Boles

"Athletic Council to Dispense With Full Time Director." ... "Athletic Director"—headline over a story in The Kernel and over a photograph of S. A. "Daddy" Boles, for many years head of the physical education department of the university, and present head of the athletic department. Who gets the point? Or, rather, who didn't get it? Well, for the benefit of those who didn't and for those who did, here are the facts:

In Friday's issue of The Kernel, there appeared a story explaining yesterday was appointed alumnus director of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Press Association by William Ardery, president, to serve until the fall meeting of the organization, when a permanent director of the association will be elected. Under the organization plan of the National College Press Association each unit organization in the entire association must have a permanent director who will carry on the business of his association with the N. C. P. A., and who will serve on the national board of directors.

RANNELLS TO SPEAK

Prof. Edward W. Rannells, head of the art department, will speak at the Art Center at 7:30 p. m. tonight on the current water color exhibition. The general public is invited.

that the Kentucky High School Athletic Association would not employ a full time director of athletics in the future. The story was run in the sixth column, on page five. Due to the fact that the advertising department failed to get enough ads to occupy the proper proportion of an eight-page paper such as the editors had planned, the news staff was pressed for copy, and the press room workmen were pressed for time during which to set up enough news to fill the paper. The result was that, in making up the paper, one of the press-room men decided to give merited publicity to some of the athletic directors or coaches at the university. "Daddy" Boles was the first one chosen; then Prof. J. C. Jones, golf coach, was next. But something that wouldn't have happened one in ten million chances did happen in making up the paper.

The picture of "Daddy" Boles was placed beside the story announcing that the Kentucky High School Association would not employ a full time director—and it just happened, again, that head lines to the story failed to explain that the story was related to Kentucky high schools, rather than to the university. The evil deed was done—"Daddy" Boles was fired! The Kernel had fired him! Worst of all, it was the first issue for the new managing editor. Fate was against him; woe be unto him in the future!

Vanderbilt Swamped by Wildcat Team, Saturday

By J. D. ADAMS

The University of Kentucky track team defeated the thimble of Vanderbilt University Saturday afternoon on Stoll field 67½ to 49½. Co-Captain "Shipwreck" Kelly tied the field for the afternoon with 14 points.

The Wildcat star won the hundred yard dash in 9.9 and also won the 220 in 22.1 seconds. Kelly won easily in this event. In the broad jump the Springfield flash tied with Freddie McLane of Kentucky at 22 feet and six inches which is a new record for the local track.

It was the second meet of the season for both teams, the Wildcats having defeated the University of Louisville thimble last Saturday at Louisville. The Commodores defeated Southwestern of Memphis, Tenn. The Blue and White showed great improvement in the track events, but the ancient field event weakness of the Blue and White again prevailed.

The Wildcat victory marked the first Southern Conference meet of the season for the Big Blue and the second successive year that Kentucky has defeated the Vanderbilt team.

Vanderbilt has a relay team that has not been defeated in the past 15 years of competition in a dual meet. It looked like the 'Cats would break the Nashville boys' record when Foster gave the 'Cats the lead in the first quarter-mile. Woodward and Schell made up the lost ground for the Tennesseans to win in 3:30.

The Wildcats made a clean sweep of four events, and won first places in five more, winning both places in the half-mile run, the two-mile run, the high hurdles, the hundred yard dash, and the broad jump. The Commodores made a clean sweep in the 440 yard dash, the 880 yard run.

The Commodores won first places in the shot-put with Fortune ending Seale. Schwartz, a great 4 letter athlete, tossed the discus 135 feet 7 inches to best Andrews of Kentucky.

The next meet of the season will be a Southern Conference meet with the Volunteers of Tennessee University on Stoll field Saturday afternoon. Tennessee defeated Kentucky last year for the 'Cat's only loss.

The results,
100-yard dash—Kelly, Kentucky, first; Heber, Kentucky, and Johnson, Vanderbilt, tied for second. Time 9.9.

220-yard dash—Kelly, Kentucky, first; McNevin, Vanderbilt, second. Time 22 1-10.

440-yard dash—Woodard, Vanderbilt, first; Mansfield, Vanderbilt, second. Time 52.

880-yard run—Pickering, Vanderbilt, first; Samuels, Vanderbilt, second. Time 2:03 2-10.

1 mile run—O'Bryant, Kentucky, first; Baker, Kentucky, second. Time 4:42.

Two-mile run—Burriss, Kentucky, first; Baker, Kentucky, second. Time 10:40 2-10.

120-yard high hurdles—Shipley, Kentucky, first; Emmelle, Kentucky, second. Time 16 5-10.

220-yard low hurdles—King, Vanderbilt, first; Williams, Kentucky, second. Time 26.

Pole vault—Hubble, Kentucky, first; Owen, Vanderbilt, second. Height, 11 feet.

High jump—Roberts, Kentucky, first; Newton, Vanderbilt, second. Height, five feet and ten inches.

Hole-in-One Honor Goes to Student

The honor of making the first hole-in-one of the year in Lexington goes to Evan Settle, of the University of Kentucky, who drove one in from the tee on No. 3 hole at the Piccadome Golf club Sunday. The hole is 125 yards long.

With the aid of this ace, Settle scored a 36 and 37 for a 74, just three strokes over par for the course. He was practicing for the third round of the intramural golf tournament being held at the university. Settle defeated Malcolm Foster 8 and 7 in his first match and "Floppy" Foster 7 up and 5 to go in the second.

Gayle Hamon was playing with Settle at the time he drove his tee shot into the cup. Settle has earned numerals in football and basketball at the university.

Broadjump—Kelly, Kentucky and McLane, Kentucky tied for first place. Distance, 22 feet six inches. Shot put—Fortune, Vanderbilt, first; Seale, Kentucky, second. Distance, 41 feet, three inches. Discus throw—Schwartz, Vanderbilt, first; Andrews, Kentucky, second. Distance, 135 feet, seven inches. Javelin throw—Cavana, Kentucky, first; Peterson, Vanderbilt, second. Distance, 172 feet, three inches. Mile relay—Vanderbilt (Cato, Evans Woodard and Schell). Time 3:30.

Members of team: Cato, Evans, Woodard and Schell. Time 3:30.

TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY BEREANS WEDNESDAY

An April shower halted the tennis matches between Berea and Kentucky yesterday afternoon. Only one match had been completed when the rain started, and only three others had been inaugurated.

Berea had a fine aggregation of players and was causing the Kentuckians a great deal of trouble when the battles were halted by rain. The results of play.

Senff won from Kelly: 6-2, 6-4. Spicer won one set from Bowman 8-6. The matches between Ed Kee and Combs were even; Kee having won the first set 6-2 losing the second, 6-2; and the third stood even, with two games having been played.

Farquhar lost the first set to Allen 6-1, and the second set was 2 all. Joe Kee No. 1 man and Harlowe No. 1 man for Berea had not started their match.

The match which was rained out today will be played off Wednesday at 2 o'clock on the courts near McVey hall. None of the above scores will be counted, but the matches will be played over, according to Coach Downing. Kentucky tennis mentor. Other matches to be played, doubles: Joe Kee and Farquhar, Kentucky against Har-

The tennis team has rounded into fine shape considering the short time they have been practicing. Joe Kee, Captain Earl K. Senff, Carey Spicer, Farquhar and Ed Kee are all showing up well. After playing the Berea match on Wednesday, the Wildcats will begin prepping for their southern trip to be made on April 29, 30 and May 1. On the southern trip the Wildcats will play Vanderbilt at Nashville on April 29, University of Alabama, April 30, and on May 1 the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech, Atlanta.

The anticipated northern trip will be abandoned because of the long southern trip made by the team.

The Greeks Dance

Despite a page one feature which appeared in The Kernel Friday and which could not but remind one of the Kampus Kat the Alfata-omegas had fewer guests than the Cigis Saturday evening. In a special statement to this column yesterday one of the gentlemen said that he was glad that they did not have any more.

Since courtesy is seldom found in this column, "in the manner of" Thomas L. (Rah Rah) Riley, both were mediocre entertainment.

The Alpha Gam Garden
Our old pals the Alfagams tell us that members of other sororities have been using their garden for the purpose which is supposed to be reserved for its owners. We can easily understand why they hate to be continually stumbling over Kappas. Kappas swear so much when they are stumbled over.

Line of the Century

One of the mugs had a date with Virginia Hollis and, seeing the dear old sword and shield, asked what pin she wore. When she told him that it was a Fiedelidetheta badge he assumed an attitude of serious surprise, flashed, "Oh! are you a Phi Delt?" We doubt if it was a flash or not.

Cheer the Athletes

In their rotogravure which appeared Sunday the Kays were seen behind a beer keg which they hold as the result of a football victory over the Fidelets. The gentlemen on Limestone are quite positive in their belief that the keg should be forfeited to them because the Southerners have violated the original agreement of the competition in filling the baby barrel with moonshine.

THE GIRL WITH A ROSE

Since no one has been married within the last three days we choose:

Eugenia Beck

Doc Beck snatches the rose from our clutching fingers this week because she is a blonde; because she is a beautiful blonde; because she does not talk more than a freshman should; because she seriously believes that she will be a doctor; because she is amusing; because she will some day lure innocent young maidens into Triddle-delta; because she saw nothing too intensely interesting in Rush Week; because she cured our blindness by explaining that we really were not blind after all—we had only been crying; because she may sometimes wonder, but never asks what it is all about.

Ordinary Occurrences

It occurs to us that the campus is beautiful in the spring... that O. K. Barnes, of the Barnes Beef Trust, was a visitor in the offices of The Kernel yesterday... that Tannery Saturday justified our Derby prediction of last spring... that we wish they would have just one outstanding band for the Engineer's Ball... that we are glad we ran our list of the pins which were out when we did—it would be impossible now... that we feel even more stupid than usual today... that violets grow on our campus.

Brotherly Love

Coleman R. Smith, local Delt and prominent in campus business circles, entered fraternity house at the University of Cincinnati. After yelling like a true Kentuckian for several minutes one of the dear, sleepy-eyed, inopositable brothers appeared, scowled, growled, "Well, what do you want?"

Smith explained that he wanted to spend the night within the sacred portals and asked if he would inconvenience the chapter by so doing.

"I don't know," grunted the gentleman, "we have several visitors in the house now. But I'll find out."

"Thanx," said Coleman.

XCHANGES

By GERTRUDE EVANS

The varsity, undergraduate newspaper of the University of Toronto, has been indefinitely suspended by the student administrative council following the publication in its columns of an editorial on atheism.

A men's dancing chorus of thirty-two members has been organized at Princeton. The director says that the public is tired of chorus girls.

A special telephone system has been installed between the men's and women's dormitories at Antioch College in the hope of promoting better and increased social contacts.

One of the outstanding senior coeds at the University of Arizona this year is Christine Garcia, a Papago Indian girl. Her chief activities outside the classroom have been athletic. She has been a first-class pitcher on the Varsity Villager's baseball team, a guard on her basketball team, a fullback in her class hockey, and a member of the girls' tennis squad.

Gifts of more than $1,000,000 have been received by Wesleyan University in its drive for $3,000,000 as a centennial fund to be raised before October. Seven gifts have been for $100,000 each.

San Francisco State has adopted a very apt name for their athletic teams. It is "Golden Gators," and is symbolic of the city by the Golden Gate.

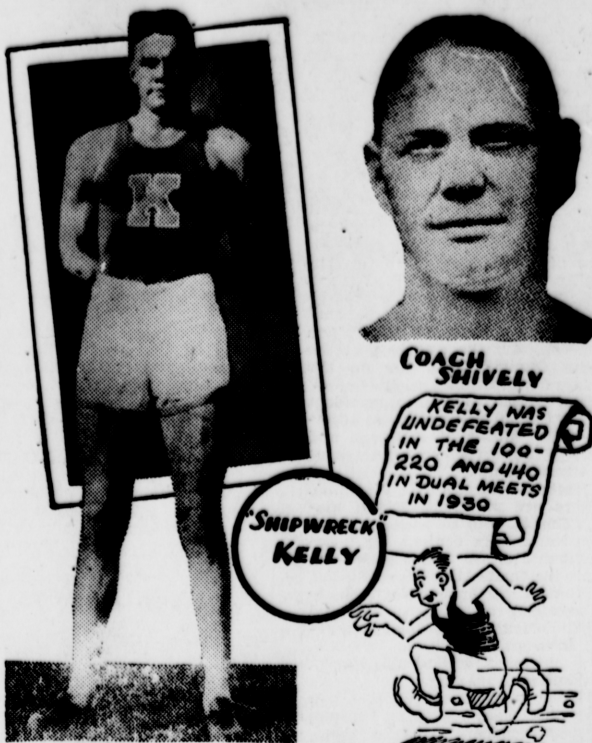

"This job of bringing home the bacon is no joke, sighed Doctor Bass.

"No, and on top of that I always have to stop at the 'Friendly' and bring home the bakin' too," was Professor Davis's comment.

A girl friend asked us the other day if we had a compact. We didn't and told her that we had also stopped carrying cigarettes — it's too effeminate.—S. C. Gamecock.

The Stormy Petrel, Ogleshorpe University publications, made its fifth change in editors last week. All of them up to this time have had to resign on account of other more pressing duties. This time they have put in two freshmen. This beats The Kernel's record.

SHIPWRECK
KELLY

"The great Shipwreck" is still undefeated in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Kelly did not run in the Louisville meet but came back strong to win the century and furlong races against the Vanderbilt dash-men. "Shipwreck" is faster than ever this season. Last Saturday he won the 100 in 9.9 and coasted to an easy victory in the 220, being timed at 22.1. Bernie Shively, coach of the Wildcat thimble has developed a great squad.

Freshmen to Play

Coach Elmer Glib has announced that his freshman baseball team will open the season on Stoll field against Eastern State Normal next Thursday afternoon. Glib has some promising players on his squad and an interesting game is expected.

fielding of the Musketeers allowed two runs to seep in, and in the eighth, two errors by Stadler, Xavierian second baseman, were instrumental in helping the Wildcats win.

There were no outstanding fielding stars for either team, but Dave Harmon, for Xavier, was the batting star. His deep hit to right field in the fifth was good for three bags and helped Xavier rally.

The score by innings:
Kentucky ..... 300 002 030-8
Xavier ..... 000 220 000-4
Batteries—Kentucky, Ferrell, McMurray and Barnes, Augustus. Xavier, Brill, Bode, and Steinkamp.

When "Spud" went to the mind-reader, he charged him only half-price.

man baseball team as an outfielder and is one of the frosh's best batsmen. During the winter months he participated in the intramural bowling tournament and was high scorer for the meet.

The second of this red quintette is "Red" Harvey, of Chicago. His events are the 100, 220, and the broad jump. His best time for the hundred is 10.3, but he has never been given a trial in actual competition. He came here with wonderful high school record and big things are expected of him. His time for the 220 is better than just good, and his work in the broad jump is best for the freshmen this year.

Lexington is credited with sending "Red" Hickey to the university. Hickey does the mile and does it well. Considering the fact that the Stoll Field track is slow, his time of 4:55 for the mile is excellent.

From a nearby town with the gay name of Paris, comes the fourth of the five, "Red" Parrish. He does three events, the 100, pole vault, and the high jump. While he was in high school he topped 12 feet with a pole, but Parrish is fast growing into a big boy, and it will take a lot of work for him to attain that mark now. He goes over 5 feet 5 inches in the high jump and his time for the hundred is 10.4.

Lastly we have "Red" Adams, from the fair city of Lexington in the heart of the Bluegrass" (what a clash of color that is). Adams is just a young boy, but he turns in time for the mile that is good for a lad of his age.

He runs the mile in five minutes and eight seconds, and is improving every day. Adams takes sports seriously and spends his spare moments in the office of the sports department rattling off copy for The Kernel.

Adams is unanimous choice of the track squad for publicity man, and is quoted by "Peter" Potter as "his first publicity man." In the first of this article there is mention of temper, but with all of his red hair there isn't a boy of better nature on the campus than little "Red" Adams.

DELEGATE ATTENDS

Louise Thompson, junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, will represent the university at a meeting of the central division of the Athletic Conference of American College Women to be held at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, April 23, 24, and 25. She has been appointed as the official delegate from the university Woman's Athletic Association.
